CERTIFIED TECHNICIANS

Invest in First Response Health & Safety as your partner in constructing a safer, more profitable future.

First Response Health & Safety assures safe and healthful working conditions by enforcing certification standards for all our Technicians.

NATIONAL AND STATE CERTIFICATIONS

All of our technicians are certified with the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians. As such, our technicians have undergone rigorous training to allow them to perform excellent patient assessments and are skilled in basic life support and first aid. Additionally, our technicians are also state certified to work in every state in which we operate.

CPR

FRHS also ensures that all of its technicians are certified in CPR with the main certifying organization used being American Heart Association.

OSHA

FRHS strives to not only provide excellent healthcare but also help prevent costly incidents before they injure your employees. To meet this goal, FRHS technicians have received their OSHA 30 certification with FRHS management all being certified in OSHA 510.

CERTIFIED WELLNESS COACH

FRHS believes that a person's health is not limited to just their body. FRHS management are certified Wellness Coaches with the National Academy of Sports Medicine. This certification allows us to have conversations with your employees and help them achieve a healthier lifestyle that can grant them increased focus, productivity and overall wellness.
